Here would be a great Stallion to anyones barn! 5 panel NN. Homozegous for the black gene and pattern. Always, colored and patterned foals... no solid colored foals. He was shown and started under saddle when he was younger. Then he was turned out to be a horse. This year is his first foal crop...We are very pleased! You wont be disappointed owning this stallion. I have hand bred him (use a chain) he knows the difference between the halter and lead rope or lead rope with the chain. he is easy handling. . and he pasture breeds. He spends most of all his days in the pasture with the mares and foals. Should not take him much to get him back under saddle and riding again either. We are moving out of state.. no longer breeding.
